SONDOS RADIOSHOW is a weekly, 60-minute radio program dedicated to contemporary electronic culture and international club music.

Created by DJ and producer Diego Mates, the show draws on his decades of experience and deep musical knowledge—expertise gained through an artistic journey rooted in understanding and constantly exploring the evolution of dance music. This sensibility has enabled him to blend contemporary sounds with references to the historical roots of club culture, resulting in a unique, distinctive, and dynamic musical selection. The outcome is a DJ set with a strong identity that reflects its creator's musical vision.

Sondos is a sonic journey bridging past and present, successfully combining musical exploration, energy, and entertainment. The show's sound spans Tech House, House, Tribal, and electronic music, enriched by influences from 1970s funk and disco. Grooves, warm basslines, and percussive rhythms merge into a continuous, high-energy musical flow.
